Tax Cuts and Jobs Act 2017

Traveling salespeople and other W-2 employees who historically deducted mileage on Form 2106 as a unreimbursed expense are no longer allowed to deduct mileage. A company may still reimburse you up to the mileage rate without it being considered income to you, but any difference cannot be deducted due to the recent tax reform (sorry).

End Date for Business Use (if applicable) _____

Odometer on Jan 1 or Start Date _____

Odometer on Dec 31 or End Date _____

Personal Miles _____

Commuting Miles _____

Business Miles* _____

* Business miles will be the difference of ending odometer less starting odometer, personal miles and commuting miles.

Note: We need total miles driven (beginning and end odometer readings). In other words, we need more than just the business miles. Why? Good question. Auto registrations, taxes and loan interest can be added to the mileage deduction but only the business use percentage. As such we need total miles and business miles.

Business Connection

Briefly describe how this vehicle(s) is used in conjunction with your non S-Corp small business below-

Actual Expenses

Do you think your actual expenses will exceed the mileage rate (currently 54.5 cents per mile for 2018)? Before you say Yes, consider that you can only deduct the business portion of your actual expenses. For example, you drive 10,000 miles and 2,500 miles were for business, a total of 25%. A set of tires for $800 will only yield a $200 deduction (25%). Having said this please list your costs associated with gas, oil, tires, service and repairs, modifications, insurance, lease payments and titling below-

Generally speaking, the mileage rate will still exceed actual expenses, but we can deduct the higher of the two. If you deduct actual expenses in any tax year, you cannot switch back to the mileage deduction. Regardless, you still must submit the miles above in addition to expenses.

Mandatory IRS Due Diligence

Do you have another vehicle available for personal use?	YES	NO
Do you have written evidence or a mileage log?*	YES	NO
Were you reimbursed for any travel expense including mileage?	YES	NO
Is the vehicle(s) in your name (or spouse) or business?	ME/SPOUSE	BIZ

Mileage Log

Mileage is one of the most incorrectly deducted expenses, and therefore it is one of the most scrutinized by the IRS. Easy money for them. First, you need to prove you own the vehicle(s). Next, you need to keep track of your beginning and ending odometer readings, and have that data corroborated by service receipts. Therefore, it is a good idea to make copies of service invoices such as Jiffy Lube since these companies record odometer readings. Lastly, you need to keep track of the date, the business miles driven and the business connection.

We do not normally need to see your mileage log. In some cases, we might. We always suggest using a smartphone app to track your mileage via GPS which also emails you a mileage log compilation. Very nice. Remember, a written log is required to be maintained by you, and can be requested anytime by the IRS during an examination. Memories grow short- keep up with this requirement.

Lease

Leased vehicles have a lease inclusion which reduces your deduction by a few dollars. But, this inclusion only affects you if you use actual expenses versus the mileage rate. If you believe your actual expenses will exceed the mileage rate, AND this vehicle is leased, please provide the purchase price, the purchase date, and the term (length) of the lease below-

Loan Interest, Taxes

Even if you use the mileage rate as your method of deduction, the loan interest paid on your vehicle is deductible to the extent of business use. For example, if your interest was $5,000 and the business use was 10% (using miles) then you receive another $500 deduction on top of your mileage rate. Wait! There is more. We deduct the tax portion of your auto registrations with your mileage deduction to reduce your self-employment taxes even more. Therefore, we need two numbers. We need the loan interest paid on your vehicle for the tax year and the taxes associated with your auto registrations below-
